TEN GOALS AGAIN

Canterbury—Prague matches always produce good, fast and entertaining football and last Wednesday week's game was no exception.

However, this was the first time Prague has ever beaten Canterbury in a competition match, although they beat them in a trial game early this season.

Ten goals were scored in the match, or exactly the same amount as in their first round encounter last year, when Canterbury won 6—4.

Scores like these are rare in first divisions anywhere, except when teams with unusually strong forward lines meet.

Prague and Canterbury have, possibly, the most penetrating forwards in Australia.

However, Prague forwards had plenty of support from their wing halves, where Canterbury left too much to Prague's inside forwards also helped carry the ball from mid-field, whereas Canterbury' left too much to centre forward Young and the two wingers, Moore and Salisbury.

BRING OUT A BRITON!

Of course, the 'Berries have been crippled with injuries.

Ray Neal and Don Brown were badly missed and the reserve players are not quite up to it yet, I am afraid.

I understand the policy of the Canterbury Committee is to encourage their own youngsters rather than import players.

This is very wise and it paid dividends in the past.

But I also believe that some time ago the Committee was of the opinion that when the time arrived for Canterbury to "buy" players they would find means to do so.

I feel the time is ripe right now.

Canterbury are in desperate need of two good, first division wing halves and at least one, and possibly two, inside forwards.

Through importations and good coaching the type of football played now is so far ahead of anything reserve grade teams play, that only imports can fill the gap for the time being.

And I would suggest that the players be imported from Great Britain.

It's long time since we had any British (soccer) "blood" and the time could be opportune for an infusion.

However, I also would suggest contacting English League officials first and asking them for help.

I am certain they will try to help Australian clubs with some good, first division players.

LET'S JOIN FORCES!

While on the subject of team building let us discuss another aspect of the problem.

Did you ever give any thought to this — how long can New Australian teams exist without the support of a suburb or locality and, generally, the Australian public?

And, vice versa, how long can Australian clubs ignore the potential of the New Australian following?

Well, if you did, you probably know the answer — not very long.

The reasons are many.

Let's take, for instance, two clubs: Bankstown (First Div.) and Polonia (Second. Div.).

Both teams are struggling, trying to hang on to their respective divisions.

Both need money, good players and a large following to achieve success.

Neither can get it on their own.

Yet, if they amalgamated and joined forces by mutual agreement they could really go places.

To start with — there are about 40.000 Poles in Sydney — the great majority of whom live in the Bankstown-Fairfield Area.

Most of them keep away from football simply because their team, Polonia, is not in First Division.

Polonia, as a Second Div. side, cannot import players for various reasons.

Yet, a combined Polonia-Bankstown First Div. club could.

First of all they could import 5—6 first graders from Poland and practically just for the asking.

Only expense would be for fares.

No transfer fees would be required as another Polonia, in Melbourne, proved not so long ago.

They just asked the Polish Football Association for help, and — bingo — four volunteers were picked and are on their way to Melbourne.

A team consisting of these players plus the pick of the Bankstown talent would immediately draw gates of 5.000 people and more, including at least 3.000 Poles.

That means £1.000 gates, not mentioning a few thousand extra soccer followers (Poles) for the game generally.

A good team, in turn, would win the financial support of both Polish and local business houses.

APIA-Leichhardt has proved my point so far, although not quite in the same way I am suggesting here.

I hope my friends from both teams will give a serious thought and consideration to what I outlined here.

Let's think big.

Somogyi leaves Sydney Austral

The contract between Sydney Austral and its coach, Erno Somogyi has been rescinded by mutual agreement.

Somogyi coached the Dutch team for one and a half years.

SYDNEY AUSTRAL goalie De Vries faile in a spectacular bid to stop Prague scoring in their recent encounter. De Vries will be seen in action at Sydney Athletic Field on Sunday, when his team clashes with traditional rivals, APIA, in the only First Division game in Sydney on that day. The teams are among the competition leaders and a first-class game appears assured.

Code's future is in our own hands

What does the future hold for soccer in New South Wales?

Federation secretary Eddie Princi returns from Europe this week and, at the time of writing, we predict that his report will not be very heartening.

Mr Princi went to Europe to discuss with FIFA officials the eligibility to play here of European players coming to Australia as migrants.

But, on the other hand, a visit to Lambert Park last Sunday left one with the feeling that the future is assured.

Assured, that is, if all clubs forget their petty squables, work together and take a lead from clubs organised and supported predominantly by former Europeans.

These clubs have made tremendous progress in the last few years.

The scene at Lambert Park was a sure sign that the public will go to see soccer, no matter who is playing, provided the football is of high standard.

Club administrators need have no fear of investing in top-class players to build their teams.

Fully professional teams possible

With a good ground and sound administration, a club could safely spend £10,000 on first class overseas players and recoup that amount in one season.

The fact that APIA cleared more than £1000 from its clash with Prague at Lambert Park is proof that we could carry fully professional teams in Sydney.

With the right leadership, this could come about as early as next year.

It would appear that the Federation is in danger of falling into the same petty administration associated with the organisation it deposed.

Some of the discussions recently have been unsavory and not befitting an organisation heading for bigger things.

Some clubs should take stock of themselves, as should the Managament Committee, forget the petty things that only hinder the progress of the code, and get on with the bold and fearless policy that will benefit soccer generally.

For the sake of the game, let us all work together in greater unity.

Such efforts will be rewarded by a higher standard of football and increased gate receipts.

This, in turn, will ensure a secure future for players who may want to take up the game here as a profession.

Coaching scheme in full swing

The Federation Coaches Association scheme is in full swing in the Bankstown area.

About 20 junior coaches have received instruction in soccer fundamentals.

The enthusiasm displayed by those who attended this course augers well for the future of soccer in this area.

Their aptitude in absorbing the coaching curriculum — theoretical and practical — justifies the coaches' policy in taking a course of instruction to the districts.

If all other areas are as enthusiastic as Bankstown, then administrators have no need to fear for the future of soccer in this State.

But the need for more coaches to take an active part in the scheme is urgent.

The Coaches Association is a young organisation but its members so far have done much to assist the code in this State.

Its objects are to assist coaches generally, provide amenities and to assist in the development of soccer throughout New South Wales, and eventually Australia.

Membership is only £1.1.0 and a special invitation is extended to all coaches or those desirous of assisting coaches to write to the Secretary, Mr J. Bellwood, 14 Rosa Street, Croydon, Sydney.

TEAM of the WEEK

Every week an A and B team will be selected from the best players in First Division teams.

The best A team player will be nominated as the "Player of the Week" and will score three points.

All other A team nominations will receive two points and B team players one point.

The player with the highest number of points at the end of the season will automatically become Player of the Year.

Ampol Cup fixtures, Federation Cup matches and the competition semi-finals, final and grand-final will not be taken into account.

Here are the players who stood out in last weekend's two rounds of matches.

A. SAGHI

Prague's genial inside left was his team's spearhead in attack and played his part to perfection in a highly tactical game.

His brilliant understanding and short passes to his team mates were a feature of Saghi's remarkable match.

His skill and consistency stamp him as one of the very best men in his position in Australia, probably the best.

"POACH" OVERSEAS PLAYERS

If the Federation loses official recognation because of the fuss over imported players, let us set up a really big scheme to poach players from overseas.

Not just from one club or country, but from all over Europe — Hungarians, Austrians, Scots, English, Swedes etc.

These players could be distributed through all clubs.

Prague is strong enough, so let us grab five or six Hungarians and build up Budapest.

Then six English boys for Auburn and so on.

Thus we could slowly build up every club to Prague's standard and on to world standard.

Imagine an Australian representative team then.

R. Bruce,
Bradfield Park.

New set-up for clubs

We have made the long train journey from Moss Vale to Sydney for all the big matches of recent years, such as Yugoslavia, Austria Rapid, Blackpool, Hearts and Costa Rica, so are quite international in outlook.

But we think the time has come when clubs such as Prague and Budapest should change their names to represent some district, as do other soccer clubs and clubs of other codes.

We fully realise the great lift the overseas people have given our local football, but feel that clubs with overseas names playing week after week will not attract the public.

We feel that the Federation should put this idea to the clubs concerned, for the good of the game and the clubs themselves.

E. and H. Telford,
Moss Vale.

Second Division

Corinthians played an exciting 2-all draw with Polonia at Waverly Ovol last Saturday.

Corinthians were confident of a win when taking the field, but later considered themselves lucky to get a point after being two goals down.

Polonia attacked strongly in the early stages of the game and, after forcing several corners, they were rewarded with a gaol headed from a well-taken corner.

Corinthians fought back, but the opposition defence held and they were 1 down at the interval.

They gained the ascendancy in the second half, but many of their attacks fell down through bad passing.

Polonia forwards finally broke away and their centre forward got clear, with only the goalie to beat.

The goalie dived at the centre's feet and brought him down, but gave away a penalty.

Polonia made no mistake about taking full advantage of the kick.

Corinthians came back into calculations when a good passing movement gave Alfie Miller the ball on the right wing and he cracked it into the net with terrific drive.

This inspired Corinthians, who battled hard for the equaliser.

Eight minutes from full time George Kenny put over a beautiful corner and Ray Barman went high in the air to put the ball in the net.

Corinthians kept up the pressure, but a shot by Johnny Higgins just went wide of the post to leave the score at 2-all.

This weekend's games

Auburn play hosts to Corrimal in what is the "match of the day" at Mona Park on Saturday and this real clash of the giants should be worth watching.

The home team will be all out to topple their old rivals and draw closer to the "top four".

Auburn defeated Canterbury in a thrilling match last week and this great win could give them the necessary confidence clinch the game against the visitors, thus I am tipping AUBURN.

The team has been strengthened by the recent inclusion of Bilbey and left-half F. Dayney, who played remarkably well last Saturday.

With Quested to set things moving, the Auburn forwards are seeing a lot of the ball and are scoring many goals.

Auburn played a depleted and weary Canterbury, but must be given full credit for their win as the Berries were mighty dangerous at times.

Henderson had to turn on another dazzling performance to keep the score down.

Morrow was inconspicuous in the first half, but gave a bright second-half display, scoring his usual goal to remain leading goal-scorer.

Corrimal will be just as tough a proposition as Canterbury.

But I feel that Auburn's excellent halves and diligent insides wil have the edge on their opponents, because Peters and company are playing better than ever.

The outcome of this thrilling game could depend on whether the solid Corrimal defence, which has never been off-form this season, can hold the reorganised Auburn forwards.

If the Coast halves can get the ball to the ever-dangerous Learmonth and Burns, then Auburn will be hard pressed and Henderson will have yet another opportunity to prove his glorious present form.

Both teams play good football and this match could easily developed into one of the season's most exciting.

There is little to chose between them, but as I have already said above I feel that Auburn has the better forward line and that could win this vital game for them.

This efficient calmness stamps them as a real top-class combination.

The home team were continually in attack, but Prague seized every opportunity to break away.

The forwards's fine carpet-passing bewildered their opponents to such an extent that penalties and free-kicks which the backs and halves gave proved too costly.

Prague will be submitted to much less pressure in this game.

No team can be taken too lightly, but I feel the visitors will have no effective answer to their opponents, skill and clever tactics.

By L. Gautier

It will be a delight to watch Johnny Wong opposed to Karl Jaros and interesting to see how Nereo Butcovitch fares against his old team-mates.

PRAGUE should be untroubled to win, but North Side could surprise as they showed signs of improvement against Balgownie last week.

Budapest and Bankstown should play a very close game at Arlington Oval this Saturday.

This match will see opposed a team on the improve, Bankstown, and a team which is dangerously slipping towards the bottom of the ladder, Budapest.

On the paper there is very little between the two teams, but I feel that on the field BANKSTON will run out the winners.

Bankstown is really playing much better now that all injured and absent stars are back on the deck.

Galambos will find Bob Madden a tough nut to crack, but if Schopf is kept in the forwards the team loses half its defensive force.

The former Austrian Olympic player is erratic, but could hold the defence on his own, as he has done often in the past, and on his position on the field a great deal will depend.

Bankstown's better displays these past weeks should hearten their many supporters.

On Saturday, the forwards should get through often enough to test Bihary and get a few goals in the process.

If Galambos, Voros and company are also in a scoring mood then this game could be a bright one.

only APIA player to stand out in a team which tried hard and displayed a good fighting spirit, but could not match Prague's superior skill.

The Leichhardt team in spite of its loss, is right on the top of the ladder and deserve that position.

Sydney Austral, who were unlucky to strike such unexpected brilliance from Hakoah, are also among the leading clubs.

Their clash should provide fast open football.

Sydney Austral will be trying desperately to stave off their third defeated in a row and their determination could win the day.

But I really think APIA is the more polished team and its style should delight the crowd and greatly bother the Austral defence.

Gerry De Vries will have another hard match ahead of him, but if he can inspire his backs and halves, then speedy wingers Smit and de Pyper

90-minute battle

Gladesville fans should see top-class football when the home team plays Hakoah.

The difference in styles and tactics should be the main feature of this match, which should keep the crowd on its toes for the full 90 minutes.

Hakoah certainly made me eat my words again when they defeated Sydney Austral last week, after I had tipped them to lose.

Hakoah played brilliantly last week and deserved their win.

Special mention must be made of lanky centre forward, Bobby Burgoyne, who turned jeers into cheers when he slammed home two great goals in the last 15 minutes.

His first half was wretched and his game was visibly affected by indiscriminate booing by a section of the crowd.

But he fully made up for his recent bad patch in the second half, when he was the best man on the field.

If the former Newcastle goal-notcher can reproduce last week's final 20 minutes, than Pettigrew and company will have their hands full as Hearne, Forgacs and Schussig are teaming beautifully and constantly feeding the ball to Burgoyne.

Once again Burgoyne will hold the clue to this game, and as will opposing centre forward Bill Hume, who will be up against one of Australia's thoughtest-ever defences.

There cannot be any doubt that Walsh, Aaranyi and, especially, Jock Aird are remarkably skilful defenders.

Arthur Rowe and Outram are not disgraced in such high company, and Rowe even saved a certain goal last week when Essey had steered the ball past Kurt Spiegel.

Gladesville went down narrowly to Corrimal at Memorial Drive on Sunday and they will be keen to win this one to keep their slender chances alive.

I believe they will find their home ground a very useful ally in this hard match.

I am tipping a DRAW, because both teams have outstanding back-lines.

I would not be unduly surprised if this game ended in a scoreless draw — the defences being stronger than the attack.

Prague should once again thrill the fans with their scientific soccer when they play North Side United at the E. S. Marks Field on Saturday.

The team is undefeated after 10 games and I cannot see them losing against the gallant North Siders.

But the latter are confident that they will give their opponents a much harder game than most people expect.

Prague's Leo Baumgartner countered intelligently Gyula Polgar's APIA tactics last Sunday.

His roving game had Marston, Alocca and Cinat running all over the field trying to keep up with him.

Jaros, Scheinflug and Sherwin were able to pass the ball with ease to Saghi and Tamandl, who were frequently unmarked and this won the match for the visitors.

Prague deserved their win because they remained cool under terrific pressure.

Canterbury comeback

The other Saturday match is at Concord Oval, where the locals play last year's top team Canterbury.

The home team has still to win a game, and will find it hard to open its account on Saturday.

Canterbury will be a tough proposition for Concord, though nowhere near their top owing to injuries.

I must tip CANTERBURY to win as their position on the ladder is rapidly becoming alarming.

They have two deferred games to play, but every match from now on will have to be a "do or die" effort.

Canterbury lost last week because of its reshuffled line-up.

Though youngsters Robinson and Warren were not disgraced, players of the calibre of Ray Neale and Bruce Young are hard to replace.

Max Lemon was sensational in goal and Canterbury are very lucky to have two top players for that position.

Concord forwards have lost all sting with the loss of Bilbey.

The defence is the bright spot, with improving young players coming up.

But for the time being the team is finding it very hard to settle down in this remarkably high-standard competition.

Traditional rivals Sydney Austral and APIA meet at the E. S. Marks Field in Sunday's only Sydney fixture, and this should be another good and close game with the odds favoring APIA.

APIA's robust tactics were successfully countered by Prague last week and though the team was perhaps a trifle unlucky to lose, I felt that it would have fared better with less precipitation in front of goal.

Jaksa is no centre-forward, but an excellent distributing wing half.

As long as he is not being used in that position he cannot be expected to fulfil his tremendous potentiality.

De Paoli always looked dangerous, but was once again too selfish.

Eggler was fast, but apart from his glorious opening goal did nothing outstanding.

Vasvary was unusually off-balance.

Mercurial Turella was the Trip to the mountains?

The Penrith club is keen to get teams to visit it on Sundays, mainly with the idea of giving its own players plenty of match practice.

But at the same time, the club is able to offer many attractions to teams looking for social games.

The ground, situated at the foot of the Blue Mountains, is an ideal spot for a club picnic outing.

The pavillion has an excellent dance floor and equipment for the playing of records.

Hot water is made available free, all that is asked of visitors is that they bring a couple of electric jugs.

The local club can arrange any kind of refreshments.

Any clubs interested — from First Division to All-Age, should contact Mr J. A. Boyle, 219 Jamison Road, Penrith, or ring Mr R. Campbell, Mulgoa 34.

Code grows in schools

A big increase of teams into the Combined High Schools soccer competition is expected in 1960.

Twenty more schools join the CHS next year, and of them 19 play in inter-school soccer.

Up to 120 teams will then be fielded in inter High School competitions.

The number of "house teams" is now reaching astronomical proportions.

For example, James Cook High School fields 24 teams and Epping High School 22 — six in inter-school and four grades of four teams each in House soccer.

Schools in this group needing soccer support include Canterbury, Cleveland Street, Crows Nest, North Sydney Tech., Parramatta, Penrith, Randwick, Sydney High, and Sydney Tech.

There are many enthusiasts, who through staff and P and C contacts, can assist to bring these remaining schools into the soccer family.

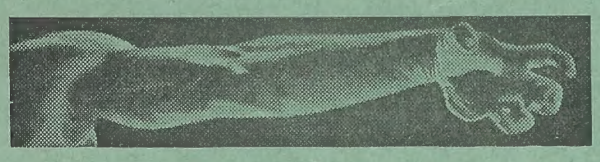
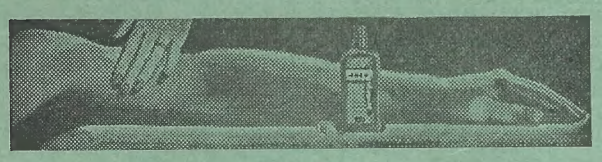
Revolutionary new treatment



for sprains, strains & muscular aches & pains



THRU
PENETRATING ANALGESIC

A cool, soothing liquid that penetrates through the tissues—to put pain to sleep.

At last science has discovered a treatment that can give relief to millions suffering from rheumatic and muscular aches and pains, such as stiff neck due to exertion and exposure, sprains, strains, fibrositis, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia.
THRU penetrates through the skin to give direct relief.
Just pat THRU on gently—no need to rub it in. It penetrates the skin, bringing rapid relief. It feels so soothing and has a pleasant fragrance.

CHAMPIONSHIP TRIAL GAMES

The State Junior Championships are drawing closer every day, with invitations the District Associations now flowing out between for trial games.

Two such invitations received by the Granville Association, could prove to supply a feast of good soccer and a gauge to the calibre of the district teams.

St. George, who will be matching wits against two teams from Canberra this weekend at Prince Edward Park, have asked the Granville Under 10 Rep. team to turn out against the St. George side as an early fixture.

The Bankstown Under 18 team is also interested in playing the Granville Under 18 team, next Sunday, most likely at Harris Street ground.

Victorian News and Views

From L. K. STONE

Wilhelmina beat Polonia 5—2 in an incident-packed game at Olympic Park last Saturday.

The match, exciting as it was, failed to produce a high standard of soccer.

Outstanding player was Wilhelmina's Vesterwelt, who proved to the selectors that they were mistaken when they failed to include him in the Victorian squad.

Leuyten 3, Pettersen and Pronk scored the goals for the Dutch.

Ex-Juventus players Guardiani and Zavatier were Polonia's scorers.

Footscray were no match for Hakoah who recorded an easy uninspiring 3—1 victory.

Meier, with two goals, again demonstrated his scoring ability.

Surprise of the day was Yarra Park's draw with George Cross, the league leaders.

The score of 2—2 was a true enough reflection of the game until the last few minutes, when the Maltese put on real pressure and it is amazing that Yarra Park with their gallant defences are at the bottom of the league.

Juventus were too strong for Box Hill and easily won 3—0.

This was made all the easier after Box Hill lost Parry, their talented inside forward in the first half after an unfortunate collision.

He was taken to the Box Hill hospital with a suspected fractured shoulder.

Barbazza, Trentini and Cubero scored for Juventus.

Slavia survived a determined effort by Moreland in the closing stages to win 2—1.

Bell and Riach got Slavia's goals, and Oxton scored for Moreland from the penalty spot.

JUST outclassed Geelong in their 4—1 victory at the Showground.

JUST defender Reduk played a magnificent game, as did Geelong's Gennari in defence.

It was no fault of the latter that Nejgus (2), Beatty and Marinovic were able score the winners.

Geelong's goalscorer was Verses.

Hearts playing their fifth game in eight days recorded another all too familiar 7—1 victory over Victoria, which officials claim to be the champion soccer State in Australia.

On this performance they, and particularly the selectors, should hang their heads in shame.

Recently, when the much criticised Australian officials, puzzled the local soccer world by selecting likeable Don Hodgen as wing half, Victorian officials and a certain radio commentator were most indignant.

Then they did just that which angered them so much, the only difference being that Don was placed at centre half.

Forwards lacking

Although he performed extremely well, together with Reuyters, Hartley and De Brueyekere, he was sadly missed in the forward line, which lacked the bite he could have provided.

Victoria was definitely in the game in the first half, and Vella scored a goal from the penalty spot.

Although the Hearts players strongly disputed the award by the excellent referee, Cadelli, there was no doubt that it was the correct decision.

Had the Hearts defender not tackled illegally from behind, Victoria would have scored anyway.

Several bad changes were made by the selectors at half time, with the result that the locals collapsed completely in the second half.

It was generally thought that when Copeland failed completely on the right wing, Oxton would be brought in, but instead, last week's failure Leuyton was the replacement.

Keuken took Laughran's place, and Copeland was switched to centre forward in place of Beattie.

These changes were obviously not pleasing to the crowd, who realised that this was the end for Victoria.

Particularly amazing is the fact that the selectors have completely ignored Victoria's top centre halves, Vesterwelt and Barker.

Hearts again showed that they are a completely balanced, with perfect ball control.

Murray, Milne, Young and Bauld in my opinion were the best in this brilliant team of no stars.

It will be interesting to see Victoria's line-up for their two Queen's Birthday weekend matches against South Australia at Olympic Park.

June 20 fixtures: Hakoah v JUST; Slavia v Footscray; George Cross v Moreland; Wilhelmina v Yarra Park; Box Hill v Polonia; Juventus v Geelong.

Weekend preview

should test Marston and the APIA defence.

Centre forward Esser had flashes of genius last week, and if he can repeat them should give goalie Max Trisic a busy time.

Down the coast on Sunday at Balgownie play the much-improved Granville, who whipped Budapest last Saturday.

This win should give the Magpies a terrific boost and they should be full of confidence.

I am tipping GRANVILLE to win this match, but there will be little in it.

Granville centre-forward Ray Marshall, who has been playing first grade soccer for 20 years, will find the young J. Grant hard to beat.

I can confidently assume that the visitors will not score eight goals on Sunday — as a matter of fact the Balgownie back-line could prove so tight that the match could end in a low-scoring draw.

Balgownie had the better of the play against North Side United last week but poor shooting marred their chances.

McWatters gave a good account of himself, but little can be said of the other forwards, though Kay scored a goal.

Garipoli played one of his best matches since joining the club.

It seems he is settling down much more easily than his countryman, Bruno Ganis, who must be finding Federation competition a long cry from the second-rate Association standard of last year.

Overseas Round-up

INDIA: Former Yugoslav team manager S. Lavko Milosevich has been engaged for six months as coach of the National team.

ISRAEL: The former coach of the 1953 Hungarian team, Gyula Mandi, has accepted the job of team manager of the Israeli FA.

HUNGARY: The Association of Soccer Coaches now has 970 members.

They are all concerned with the experiences of the 1958 World Cup.

They are out to improve the efficiency of the forwards, as well as introduce more use of the body.

Ex-international Zoltan Opata (MTK Budapest), who was one of the best Central European inside forwards in the twenties now is coach of the "B" team.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA: Forty players have been named to prepare for the 1960 Olympic games.

All are under 26 years of age.

In the near future they will form the "B" team which will meet USSR, Holland, Tunisia and East Germany.

At the end of the year 25 players will be chosen for the Olympic squad out of which the side for Rome will be selected.

AUSTRIA: It seems that ex-international Karli Decker will become permanent team manager.

The amateur side for the Rome Olympics will be coached by former FK Austria player K. Molzer.

Canberra boys here

This weekend, the St. George Association will be entertaining boys from Canberra.

Lads from the under 12 and 14 year groups will make the trip.

They will arrive this afternoon at Hurstville and will be taken by bus to Mortdale Police Boys' Club, where they will be entertained until they are taken to the homes of people, who are billeting them.

On Saturday, at Tonkin Park, Sutherland, the Canberra boys will play Sutherland Shire teams.

The under 12 group play at 1.30 pm and at 3.00 pm sprint races will be held.

This will be followed by the under 14 group game at 3.15 pm.

Car trips around Sydney have been arranged for the lads on Sunday morning and in the afternoon they will be guests of the Federation at the First Division game.

On Monday, St. George will play the visitors at Prince Edward Park, Carlton.

The under 12 year group will kick off at 1.00 pm and the under 14 year group at 2.00 pm.

The St. George Association is to be congratulated on arranging this visit.

Gala day for Juniors

Epping-Eastwood and Gladesville Methodist will each field six teams in the Gladesville—Hornsby Association gala day finals at the Gladesville sports ground this weekend.

Finalists are:

All-Age, Second Division: Pennant Hills—Gladesville Methodist.

Under 18: Epping United—Thornleigh.

Under 16: Epping United—Gladesville Methodists.

Under 14, First Division: Epping United—Christ Church.

Under 14, Second Division: Epping Methodist—Normanhurst.

Under 12, First Division: Epping United—Gladesville Methodist.

Under 12, Second Division, South: Epping Rangers—Gladesville Methodist.

Under 12, Second Division, North: Epping Cong.—Thornleigh.

Under 10, First Division: Epping United—Christ Church.

Under 10, Second Division, South: Gladesville Methodist—Beecroft.

Under 10, Second Division, North: Beecroft—St. Marks.

Four of these matches will be played at Waitara Oval.

Ex-Gladesville player praised

"Soccer World" has received a letter from New Zealand Soccer Association Vice-President, Mr J. C. Young, who quoted N. Z. Press reports that the Costa Ricans were in dazzling form against Wellington.

The Costa Ricans won 6—2.

Jimmy Bell, former Gladesville right winger, played an excellent game for Wellington.

Points on the Rules

By SCOTIA

The linesmen far too often get a roasting from the crowd.

What exactly are the duties of linesmen?

Subject to the decision of the referee, the linesmen shall indicate when the ball is out of play, and which side is entitled to the throw-in, corner kick, goal kick etc.

They shall assist the referee with offsides and carry out any duties the referee may have instructed them to perform.

Should a linesman cause undue interference or commit improper conduct the referee may dispense with his services and arrange for substitute to be appointed.

The laws only briefly set out the duties of the linesmen.

There are, therefore, many matters to which the attention of linesmen should be directed.

Their duties are not merely to "flag" for throw-ins etc.

They are there to "assist" the referee.

It should be noted the governing word is "assist".

Linesmen are not extra referees, and they can best assist by indicating to the referee, by flagging; any infringements which may have escaped his notice.

However, linesmen should never flag if the referee is in a good position or has a clear view.

That is the fundamental principle which should always be kept in mind.

A referee will always take the view of his linesmen if he has not seen the play — but his interpretation of an incident may differ from that of a linesman and his is the decision which counts.

The referee gives his instructions to his linesmen before leaving the dressing-room.

Watches, too, are synchronised so that the referee can check his time a few minutes to half or full time.

The linesman, however, cannot determine how much time shall be allowed for stoppages — that is the referee's responsibility.

There is always a senior linesmen, who will take over the referee's duties in the event of unforeseen occurences.

As most referees now work the diagonal system of control, one linesman should always be in a position to assist in offside decisions.

Southern District

In a Southern Districts game played at Liverpool last weekend, the Liverpool Under 12 boys were in good form to down North Villawood Under 12s by 12 goals to nil.

Goalscorers were Vide 4, Padovan and Perinic 3 each, and Milenkovic 2.

2ND DIV ON BIG GROUND

The deferred Second Division match between St. George and Dalmatinac will be played at the Sydney Athletic Field on Monday.
